Education.
Absorbing centuries of experience,
Testing knowledge through Experimentation.

Following an endless pattern of days
that stretches to eternity, broken only by infinitesimal moments of release.

Frustration.
Anticipation.
Boredom.
Enthusiasm.

A collage of emotions.

Inquisitive hands
grope for elusive truth, Awaiting the spark of interest to ignite enthusiasm, or remaining in the darkness of apathy.

Surging excitement erupts
in a blaze of competition.
A game becomes a battle of strength,
of spirit.
Concentration envelops the contestant
Containing the singular driving force to win.

The glory of victory
fades with the dispersing crowds, leaving individual incentive to sustain the determined athlete.

Students in solitude face the confines of conformity or the loneliness of Individuality.

A Smile.
Contagious Happiness spreads through the crowded hallway.

Pressure.
A thousand responsibilities linked to the endless ticking of the clock.
Hurry.
Capturing a brief instant of seclusion
to treasure in contemplation, relaxation.

Seeking the comfort of companionship—
a common problem,
a shared moment of ecstasy.
Endless empty words tied with trivialities conceal the silent communication of a sigh,
a glance,
a touch.

People
learning, competing,
caring, living in the microcosm that is Euclid.

SENIORS

Confronted with a conflict of interest—
To capture the remaining moments of an irretrievable time, or to concentrate on the next phase . . .
college, a job, a career.
A well-established Perspective of life-and-death grades, of "essential" social events is shattered in a wave of indecision—a confusion of precedence.
Hectic hours of last-minute learning
Block the pathway to the EXIT.
The Senior—
anxious to uncover individualism,
new experiences,
yet strangely reluctant to abandon the comfortable pattern of familiar faces . . .
Moving from the microcosm . . .

Sports

Competition.

A flock of attent observers absorbed in the hum of anticipation . . .

A surge of fear and fierceness
Erupts in a pulsating ONENESS, reflecting the determination of the individual.

Speed,
Accuracy, Effort . . .

A breath of Strength
Rushes from the hidden reserves of a pounding potential.

Inspired by a persistent inner will that strives for the victory of a team . . .
The conquest of one.

Football

Somewhere—amid the excitement of the crowd—a bugle blares. The mass responds, echoing "CHARGE!" Strains of ecstatic music from the band, in harmony with the crowd's hysteria. The blast of the whistle—the rising roar of the crowd as the players hammer onto the field. Pounding hearts. UMPH! The impact of bodies coming together in combat. Striving with every muscle, youth and strength gain confidence. Dodge. Run. Block. Tackle. A physical and mental climax, intensified by the reverberating volume of the spectators. The victory bell clangs.

Tennis

Smash! Muscles strain. Alert. Intense. Ready to pounce—violent motion erupts on command. Endless battles of instant reaction. Incessantly pounding the court with rapid, elaborate patterns of serve, return, volley. Powerful swings—an extension of a player's mind . . . arm . . . hand . . . over the net—continuity—integration into a single, flowing movement. One careful strategy—a single individual's skill.

Cross Country

With super speed you attack the two mile run. Time, time, time.—Shouts of the crowds echo somewhere in the back of your mind. Your thoughts are numb. Aware, only of the crunching of footsteps on a cinder path, the rhythmic panting of the runners—the continuous sweat. One against one. The wrestler challenges his adversary. The mat revolves in a scramble of elbows, arms, legs. Bodies seem to merge in a solid struggle for superiority. Straining against an equally matched power; enveloped in tension, overwhelming, competitive spirit. Submerged in his conflict, the wrestler is blindly aware of surrounding spectators, sympathetic teammates. The last moments slip by. The random tangle separates—the crushed victim, his spirit drained, stares agonizingly at the ceiling. The exhaustion of victory.

Board of Education

The field of education is resplendent with contrasts: contrasts in curriculum, in programs, and in activities. These contrasts allow education for all, education for life, and education that satisfies the varied and differing needs and abilities of each individual. During the past three years, Euclid Senior High School has made available for all students contrasting opportunities. These comprehensive offerings, both curricular and co-curricular, allow for individual pursuit.

As we compare our public school system with others, we are appreciative of our Board of Education who desires and provides policy leading to "Excellent Education in Euclid"; of the strong support of our citizens in our community; of a dedicated professional staff; and of a conscientious student body whose desire is to improve our world.

My personal congratulations to all for a fine year, and may you have continued success.

Administration

There have been many important moments in your life as a high school student. Some are more memorable, more dramatic, and more climactic than others. Each school year presented a new challenge ... there were new faces, new courses, and new goals. All of these experiences, in one way or another, have contributed to your education and growth.

You will constantly be faced with change and challenge. This is normal—the signs of a healthy, prosperous nation. A happy and successful person is one who thoughtfully faces challenge and change with courage. He keeps the many influencing factors in proper perspective.

We extend congratulations and wish you well in future years. Our concern and interest in you will continue. Remember us; visit us when you can. We are confident that you will plan your future wisely.

Sincerely,
Walter Schwegler

IN MEMORIAM
Harriet Sheats
1903-1970

On November 13, 1970, Euclid students and faculty, friends and relatives were saddened by the death of a gracious lady. Mrs. Sheats had been with the Euclid schools for twenty-five years, eleven of which she served as Assistant Principal in charge of college admissions. To the many students she helped in selecting a college, Mrs. Sheats was a constant friend and advisor. As an Assistant Principal she gave of her time and energies to counsel each student who applied to college; she willingly gave her time to administer college-entrance exams; and she always maintained an open-door policy for all who went to her office. All who knew and associated with Mrs. Sheats will miss her counseling, her friendship, and her graciousness.

Math

Revelation of a precise, woven network of form and concept within a twisted web of theorems, symbols, and definitions—a solid structure fused tightly into a careful pattern. Inspecting a new language—conversation with a computer . . . composing a living structure of variables, statements, and data on the constant electronic callopie of keys. Scrutinizing obscure IDEAS—a dilemma of abstracts leading to practical applications. Analyzing to find the key: a formula . . . a pattern of logic.

Ad Club

Punching passes, stamping hands, amassing tickets. Ad Club handles $$ (green and crisp or jingling) for athletic happenings. Easy-going salesmen coax good-naturedly (armed with smiles and wiles)—SELL, SELL, PROVIDE, PROVIDE!

Astronomy Club

"When the moon is in the seventh house, and Jupiter aligns with Mars . . ." Stargazers wonder at the migration of heavens. A unique tool: a miniature reflection of the firmament, a constellation-filled sky for study. Incomprehensible—the unfathomable distances, the immense sizes, the magnificent marble game in the sky.

Aviation Club

Up, up, and away! and there you are, soaring, engulfed in blue nothingness. Stomachs knot, breathless enthusiasm rises into an ecstatic roller-coaster scream—"We're up!" Touching tiny wisps of cotton candy clouds, maneuvering the agile metal bird. A surge of glorious, overwhelming "wow" magnificence. Uninhibited, unadulterated freedom—man and his eternal dream for wings.

Camera Club

Halting time for a brief second . . . Capturing a perfect scene. Experience re-lived. The camera traps a smile, expresses an emotion, shouts a social comment. blurr—FOCUS! An angle can make the difference. Experimenting—altering Perspective, Contrast. The Darkroom: a metamorphosis—Images emerge from a roll of featureless, grey film . . . Reflections of man, nature, LIFE.

Class Officers

A quartet of dynamic leaders, catalysts of class spirit. Underlying the glory of their positions are promises of endless, toilsome organization—shouldering, alone, the responsibilities of class functions. Laughs, balloons, essential funds, Powder Puff Football—these accentuate the diverse aspects of cabinet members. Headaches and satisfaction: products of their involvement.

Chess Club

Climb into the time machine, and travel backwards. Picture a medieval battle. Pious bishops, weakening pawns, fearless knights, gloomy castles . . . docile King and the nagging, overbearing Queen included. Two kingdoms (arch enemies) in a feudal conflict, waging war on a peculiar, checkerboard landscape. Cunning, brilliant maneuvers peppered with intent, gaping silences. Strategy I vs. Strategy II, labored . . . till the exultant exclamation—CHECKMATE!

Receptionist, Secretary, Office worker . . . preparation for a future in business. A test of skills—typing, shorthand, bookkeeping—in a REAL situation. An elite group in active participation in the business world . . . Education in Experience.

Euclid Theatre Guild

The intricate theatrical microcosm. Thespians reap raving applause—the silent controllers remain unknown. Lights! Shared labor strengthens camaraderie. Hang loose! spurts of creativity excite a jeaned, T-shirted tribe of flat painters. Deft fingers smear on garish grease paint, guildsmen disperse tickets. Bruised, black-sheathed, silent scene-movers . . . The "family" completes the complex jigsaw of dramatic perfection.

E-Room

Friends, relaxation, and music—a brief retreat from boxed-in rooms, pressuring teachers, tests. Groups communicating experiences, emotions, smiles. Moods find their corners—Individuals momentarily absorbed in their own thoughts. A private world—a mental pause.

F.T.A.

Education—America loses when it fails. Looking forward, F.T.A. unifies those who contemplate a teaching career. Observation Day: a time to study the TEACHER versus STUDENT dilemma—how to win the blackboard battle. Points and patience reward tutoring sessions. Potential professors dissect and absorb dynamic teaching techniques, and ponder the pros and cons of entrance into the mushrooming academic organism.

Friendship Y-Teens

Sparkling eruptions of laughter. Slivers of fun. Opening arms to unfamiliar faces, constructing and strengthening friendships, discovering PEOPLE POWER! Giggling, teasing, contemplating, in a celebration of young emotions, a here to feel good in, a when to remember and smile. Space enough, still, to spread caring outwards: contributing to the World Fellowship Fund, backing a Bake Sale and a dance. A mirror of youthful ideals, reflections of a developing, feeling individual.

Weight Lifting Club

Experimental, popular, intense discipline for the determined. Pounds, (feeling like tons) gripped, painfully lifted—muscles bulge, strain, constrict—finally, a bar raised triumphantly above the head. A face wrenched in exquisite agony—flushed, dripping, squeezed eyes and clenched teeth. Self-discipline, self-competition; building, developing, enduring.

Humanities

"Happy birthday, dear Ludwig!"—A purely Beethoven concert "tunes in" the premier activity. Small, select, Euclid's arty answer to her notorious science-sports syndrome. Cultural happenings are in focus, perking up the hum-drum existence of sterile academia. Not quite a club—more accurately, a bright, challenged, bus-hopping (but loosely-woven) group, digging into this city's arts-world.

Braille Club

To be young, gifted, and blind. In a world devoid of colors, patterns, lights, (dot dot →) a peculiar morse code emerges (dot -- dot), a miracle to reveal the magic of words to the sightless. Tiny patterned bumps prick the page, interpreted by flying fingertips. Braille Club—a challenge to see without eyes, read without printed characters, and learn with others who cannot "watch" the world.

Lighting Crew

The intricate backstage performance begins. Day after day rehearsals woven by concentration into the heart of a fine or fallible show. Pre-performance hassle—curtains rigged, stage changes memorized. An inhabited auditorium creates a jangle of nerves—CUES! Sustained on orange juice and aspirin and . . . "Switch on YELLOW!" "Pull the curtain, you idiots"—and the show is on.

Lettermen's Club

Behind a flashing "E" proudly stitched to the sweater, jaunting down the hall—an athlete, a manager, a sports AV man. Small but significant—honoring the sweat, worry, dependability it took to succeed. Enduring the self-discipline of participation, hours of exhausting practice, sacrificed time—finding reward in recognition, accomplishment . . . Each a part of the teams that are Euclid.

M.C.C.

Experience guides the exuberant novice. Passing inquisitively through an endless expanse of antiseptic corridors . . . Aware of continuous, purposeful movement of nurses, doctors. An organization to evaluate a field of life-help. Learning the inside story—Probing beneath the initial impressions to examine the interior efforts. A career?—medicine, social work . . . maybe even saving a life.

Metal Sculpture

One innovative artist, goggled, and armed with a hissing blow torch, plunging into a seldom-explored medium! Sheet metal shivers, ripples, tarnishes, divides. A curved, multi-textured butterfly emerges. Glowing infernos bake copper enamel powder to glassiness. Hands and tools merge, creating fantastically adventuresome metal concoctions.

Majorettes

Legs. Kick! HIGHER! Spinning, Shining batons capture silvery icicles of reflected light. Blurs of glittering uniforms move in synchronized, rhythmic patterns. Persistence and vitality merge, victorious over hat-snatching winds and spirit-dampening rain. Creating and conditioning culminate in a successful performance.

Senior Majorettes (L to R) Lynn Never, Marilyn Myatinski.

Movie Club

Seeing is believing . . . and within tangling reels and minute frames a new, two-dimensional reality emerges. Classrooms watch a mute, white screen explode into vibrating sound and color. Chalkboards and lectures recede—Abstract ideas materialize and become visibly understandable. Masters of audio visual mechanics race between classrooms and the A.V. office. Members respond as an urgent plea is received—"I need a projector in a hurry," or "How do you run this contraption?" A Sight Show—an innovation in visual sensation . . . sight communication.

P.A.

In public life "public address," in private occupation a varied group of tastes and skills ultimately one . . . a team. Working efficiently, easily with sound equipment—concerned with effect, and striving for a professional approach. Sacrificing time for responsibility and pressure, these workers are the unsung heroes of daily announcements, backstage performances, and sports events.

Pep Band wails out.

This group is horny.

Pep Band

A week of Bach, Beethoven, Brahms . . . then—on the count of 4—CHICAGO (sans director) interrupts the steady buzz of noise in packed bleachers. A spirited interlude, backed by hours of after school practice. Finding the right music—slight alterations in arrangement . . . an occasional improvisation. The Fight Song, a majorette dance, the Alma Mater. An original, do-it-yourself, anti-apathy machine.

"Is this where they put the shoulder pads?"

Pink Panthers

20 yards to go! Line up—pass—RUN! The opposition grabs a jersey! R-I-I-I-P . . . Euclid breaks away—TOUCH-DOWN!! Triumph—complete with mangled uniforms. Now the Pink Panthers (armed with pins, thread, clattering sewing machines) steal the show. Basting the garb of a winning team . . . vital stitches of Panther Power.

N.F.L.

Silently creeping in—Saturday morning jitters. Prepared with experience and the ability to recall rapidly essential facts, he faces the judges. He remembers fragments of advice. Trembling voice becomes stronger, modulated, confident. Words, familiar, resound in the quiet room. Emphatic words, learned, memorized in long hours of practice. Debate, competition . . . Lessons in the art of communication.

Band and Orchestra

Baaaand—forward march! One-two-three-FOUR! Unfittable uniforms, dog-earned "Bibles", utterly IMPOSSIBLE precision drills—"Mr. Taddeo, this stick figure has a flat head!"—then, (too soon) comes "Wednesday morning 8 a.m.," jolting petrified sophomores (and faintly terrified upper-classes) into Mr. Harper's torture game—Euclid Roulette . . . Football season "Fever" fades, senior wedding cake crumbles, snarling band sergeants cease yelling "Pick Up Your Feet!" With concert season, the frenzied din and clamor hushes—now—a controlled, polished vibrancy. The new magic word? the rOund tOne. Challenges (plus butterfly stomachs) reshuffle rank. Orchestra (the string thing) springs alive—angled bows and perched violins tucked under chins (praying for a song, not a screech). Wildly technical flourishes, pained pianissimos, and flashes of humor tint Euclid's musical portrait.

Choir

Choir is . . . an ESCAPE from a day of complete chaos and frustration, into a new mode of learning—without books, lectures, tests. A chance to express YOU! In an explosion of emotion. Harmony, rhythm, a blending of voices make a song powerful. Hours of practice and the strain to perfect before concerts. Pride shines through in the performances. Noise . . . Laughter . . . Smiles . . . Pride —together make choir special.

The presidential peace walk

N.H.S.

Tenseness hanging in the waiting. A robed, dignified assembly. A voice drones calmly, distinctly—the LIST of new inductees (slyly disorganized) halted abruptly ("Hey, that's my name!"). Smug kin beaming, slotted in the hidden balcony. A trio of nouns—scholarship, leadership, service—very real, very basic to this "privileged" society. Recognition lauds achievement!

Plays

For one flying moment of my life, I am not I. Greasopaint and rouge, ripples of fabric—these must cradle my new identity. I must succumb wholly to a new self, sharing by body—(exciting)—like being born again. In a synthetic universe, amidst a carnival of gaudy canvas sets, I render my pantomime to the blinding lights and the shadow of audience. Alone, preparation behind, gripped in fear of failure, I must disappoint no one. Now—the agony and ecstasy of creation, thrilling to that APPLAUSE, APPLAUSE!!!

Powder Puff

"Powder puffers" camouflage their femininity in football jerseys-minus pads. Braving the tactics of football strategy, determined females flurry in unrefined battle. Buxom cheerleaders, surprisingly tall and muscular, lead an amused crowd in cheers for the gridders. Blue and gold ribbons fly—TOUCHDOWN!!

Radio Club

WA8ZGE . . . the password to communication. The hams static shatters the anesthetized stillness. Hidden in a third floor corridor, a tiny room houses a mysterious whistling box. BUZZ, clatter. Beep-beep! Coded messages locked inside secret alphabet soup. Radio novices decipher the electronic lingo. Practice—toward the triumph of a license.

Science Seminar

A room clogged with people, hushed and waiting. Vibrations of intense interest within a wall of faces—discovering a new idea, a revolutionary viewpoint. A void of questions sucks up a volley of supposition, conjecture, projection. Molecular structures . . . the form of life . . . the threat of pollution. Scientific abstractions abandon the coldness of metal and glass to incubate in the warm heat of a receptive mind.

Ski Club

Swiftly skimming the slopes. A confused blur of trees, skiers, and snow—interrupted only by a sudden fall from a misjudged turn. Solitary concentration. Descending, accelerating . . . oblivious to time and place. At the bottom, a tow rope appears sharply. Slowing . . . snowplow—the world seems to halt. Numb from the cold . . . approaching the lodge on strangely unsteady feet. A blazing fire, hot chocolate, friends—a respite. As the chill fades, mittens and boots are pulled on, once again armed for speed, cold, fun—a new experience.

'71 Spirits

Spirits

"Scrub Brush!" Destrife the Tiggers!" The mad scramble for brushes and paint . . . A fat bolt of white paper unravels into separate canvasses for eager artists (sprawled on the floor). Brushes dip into blue, yellow, red—then splash on big, bold, off-beat sayings. T-shirts and jeans display the trademarks of the master's medium. The Cafeteria transforms into an artist's workshop. Masking-taped masterpieces adorn the halls—proud proclamations of spirit.

Spectrum

Connoisseurs of the rainbow variety of performing arts. Sampling the theater. Discovering the concert halls. Sensing the grated slash of blades of an Ice Skater's follies. A small, flexible ensemble, pointed towards entertainment (the traditional or the avant-garde). Expanding horizons, acquiring a taste for the arts.

Student Council

Sounding platform for students opinions—an intermediary between the young voice and authoritative administration. Questions . . . of open study halls, open lunch—and their solutions. Honest debate. An action group—involving people, ideas in creativity. Donkey Basketball? Organized preparation for Homecoming and Winter Festival weekends. . . promoting United Appeal. . . helping handicapped children. CARING projects to promote understanding.

Student Council decks the halls.

Voices of Art

Open your eyes and listen! Man, earth, God COLORS vibrating—bursting in the paintbox explosion! Voices (shrill, grainy, pure) screaming through textures, patterns, grotesque distortions. Hands in motion!—Creating a film, a happening! Mind STRETCHING art—peppered with great gobs of life, color, thought food!! . . . The voices of art are noisy in their silence.

Student Store

Crowded, hectic—a five-minute spasm of bustle and coin jingling. Students invade the bookstore, scanning the merchandise for nylons, noseplugs, slide rules, paperbacks. (A second-floor supply base for the war against ignorance) Slam! The cash register darts open, and the cough drop addict frantically gropes for one thin dime to buy salvation from a dragging lecture.

Wai Napolo

Icy plunge! Arms rythmically slice the water. Water rascals lash the liquid, scattering a riotous spray. Then, chaos is submerged in underwater calm. Formations radiate, creating symmetrical beauty. A flowing pattern of controlled, gliding motion. Shared exhaustion, and mutual pride underlines sisterly friendship.

Joan Springer, Vice-President

World Affairs

Man speaks to man. Communication. Evolving patterns of yesterday's predictions, tomorrow's history. Examine a world of turmoil and pain, war and resolution, election and reaction . . . Extremes, Contrasts. Discover a modern world's effect on YOU. Reach out and capture the world through your mind.

Youth Council

US, discussing people problems. Searching for Alternatives, Means, Solutions—to the threat of pollution, war's devastation, an imbalanced economy, the nature of politics. In on rapping sessions in uninhibited surroundings. Introducing relevant questions of the human condition. Awareness . . . Involvement.

Senior Scandal

"Scandal" reporters search for hidden senior mischief. Descriptive revelations, laughable situations, odd couples—nothing left unprinted. Cartooned caricatures of notorious upper-classmen, or sneaky (incriminating) facts—a conglomeration of preserved smiles, evoking smiling nostalgia . . . Bits and pieces of comic remembrances.

Eucuyo

I am ... I see, I touch, I believe, I feel, I hope, I love ... reflections of an inner soul batter the walls—furiously rushing to escape to the waiting void of an empty page. The Eucuyo is me.

The past year has been filled with many hopes and disappointments. Nevertheless, our product, the '71 EUCLIDIAN is here. My editors: Tomm, Jane, Mary, Pat, Janice and John and the rest of the staff deserve the most credit, for they are the people that really created this EUCLIDIAN. I was only the organizer of all these people. All of us will never forget the long hours of hard work and tense moments that went into the preparation of this book. Along with the problems that won't be forgotten I hope the friendships that developed this past year will always be remembered.

The '71 EUCLIDIAN would have never become a reality without the cooperation of many other people not on the editorial staff. Unlimited thanks should go to the Business Staff and Mr. Dickinson for raising the money needed to produce this book and to Morris and Bill at Ramior's for always being able to correct our blunders and helping us when help was needed. The Administration deserves thanks because they tried to understand the problems of producing a yearbook. Recognition should go to the wonderful Euclid Firemen, at Station 1, for taking the picture of the school on page 1 from their snorkel truck and to Doug and Doug for lending a hand when it was needed most. Bert Coburn, our Inter-Collegiate Press representative, was always there with a comforting and encouraging word. During the past year, our sponsor, Mr. Hall has let us run our own book. In doing this, the past year has been a great learning experience. I thank him for that.

All I can say to the students of Euclid is "The staff's work is done. The '71 EUCLIDIAN is here! I hope you like it!"

Sincerely,
 Marsha Mramor

ALMA MATER

Hail to thee, O Euclid High School,
To thy name all praise we sing,
Happy days of youthful pleasure,
Dear things to me, the so dear,
Our hearts fill with glad thoughts,
For all that is to be,
Alma Mater, Euclid High School,
All our praise we bring to thee.

Where the blue of Erie's waters
Casts the sun's bright golden rays,
There all Euclid's sons and daughters
Sing the joys of student days,
If after days be dark and drear,
And storms of life be raw and wild,
The memories of our friendships here
Will fill our hearts in Euclid High.
